DID YOU KNOW? The property at Lafayette Parkway and Morgan Street where St. Peter's Catholic Church is now located used to be a saw mill and furniture factory owned by a former LaGrange City Councilman Godfred Kener. During the Civil War, Kener made coffins for the soldiers who died in the war. When the Union Army came through LaGrange, the soldiers burned down all the buildings used for industry in the town except Kener's business. Keener Street in LaGrange is named in his honor.
